Parks and Recreation Department to Host Grandpa, Grandma, and Me Tardeada Dance

EL PASO, Texas – As part of Parks and Recreation Month, the Parks and Recreation Department is hosting a free Grandpa, Grandma, and Me Intergenerational Tardeada Dance from 5 p.m. to 8 p.m. on Friday, July 12, at Pavo Real Senior Center, 9311 Alameda.

The event focuses on three or more generations of families coming together for a night of dancing and fun. Free pizza will be available to the first 100 people, and there will be prizes and contests including grandparents with most grandchildren, the grandpa and grandma who look the most alike and the youngest and the oldest grandchildren.

Parks and Recreation Month is an initiative of the National Recreation and Park Association (NRPA) with a theme of "Game On." The Parks and Recreation Department is hosting a variety of events during Parks and Recreation Month. A list of activities and additional information can be found at www.elpasotexas.gov or by calling (915) 212-0476.
